TASK-ANNE OFFERS HELP WITH ALL DETAILS OF YOUR HOME

TaskAnne, LLC is now serving the Metro-Atlanta area offering busy professionals, aging seniors, and separating spouses a resource for organizational and management services in Home Operations and Personal Transition to help deter financial abuse and waste, and reduce stress associated with household management, tasks, and demands.

Busy Professionals are concerned with spending unnecessary amounts of money and time to "catch up or complete" home management tasks and demands while travelling and working all the time. Aging Seniors or children who have Aging Parents are concerned with elder financial abuse and waste. Separating Spouses are concerned with the costs and tasks associated with getting through the separation process, understanding and preparing for the divorce process, and starting over in life.

TaskAnne provides a comprehensive approach to give people a sense of security and stability through cost-effective ideas and services to ease, alleviate, or remove the burdens and pressures associated with home management and personal transition.

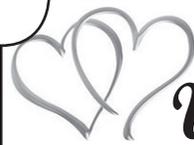

Before starting TaskAnne, Ms. Cartledge spent 18 years in the software industry working in a variety of sales, marketing, and executive support roles. Most her professional work experience was spent with Atlanta technology companies to include Oversight Systems, ISS (Internet Security Systems), and Air2Web.

"People are looking for someone who is knowledgeable that they can trust to handle their personal and private environment and affairs. They are tired of feeling taken advantage of, overwhelmed, vulnerable, unorganized, and uninformed," said Anne Cartledge, Founder and Principal Consultant. "Having a resource and advocate to organize, do the legwork, manage, negotiate, and execute tasks and projects gives people the reassurance that things are getting done in the most cost effective way."

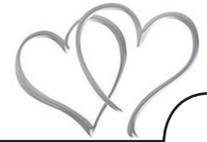

In addition to raising three successful children, Ms. Cartledge has more than 21 years in home operations management and nine years of legal assistance which makes her in a unique position to provide the services TaskAnne offers.

TaskAnne was formed in 2016 and offers home management and consulting packages by the hour or through a maintenance plan. For more information visit www.taskanne.com or call Anne at 404-323-7936.
